Spend an afternoon filled with the Christmas spirit, Sat. Dec 10th from 12-4pm, strolling the tiny town of Burton, Pop. 300, located halfway between Austin and Houston.

Explore the Burton Christmas Market & More with hand-crafted local items, baked goods and more at the Oliver Whitener-Roy Winkler Pavilions at the Texas Cotton Gin Museum. Food for purchase this year will include "Junebug's" turkey stew, crackers and a drink.

Soak up the holiday spirit as kids of all ages decorate ornaments and play games. Between 1-3pm, Santa will arrive! Kids can take a special seat by Santa as their family snaps a festive photo.

There will also be a silent auction to preserve Burton history and its historic buildings. The afternoon wraps up with community caroling from 3-4pm.

Presented by the Burton Heritage Society, and Chamber . All activities free except for some food/drink, fundraisers and shopping.
