

Texas Coop Power

EDITORIAL CALENDAR

My Texas Magazine

Every month Texas Co-op Power delivers the best of the Lone Star State. It's all about the places Texans want to go, people they want to meet, recipes they want to share and culture they want to experience. And it's all available in print and digital channels.

DEPARTMENTS

We take a deep dive into all things Texas.

TCP Talk: Readers share their opinions and ideas with friends and neighbors via email and social media.

Currents: Unexpected and lighthearted insights into current events and the co-op community.

TCP Kitchen: Explore Texas cooking with a new contest each month, featuring readers' personal stories and family favorites.

Footnotes in Texas History: A reader favorite: the little known, the legendary and everything in between.

Focus on Texas: Our monthly photo contest showcasing readers' snapshots.

TCP Digital

Find more of your favorite content: hundreds of recipes, audio and video, expanded event listings, and archives of stories you want to read again.

TexasCoopPower.com

Hit the Road With Chet Garner:

Chet's monthly postcard takes you to offbeat Texas landmarks, and our calendar lists events statewide.

Observations: Writers share personal ponderances and reflections about life experiences.

Texas Co-op Power

A MAGAZINE ABOUT TEXAS LIVING

ELAINE SPROULL (512) 486-6251 • ADVERTISING@TEXASCOOPPOWER.COM

REVISED 03.26.2024
ALL ARTICLES ARE SUBJECT TO CHANGE

Editorial Calendar

APRIL 2024

Petals in Peril

How conservation groups, scientists and gardening clubs help endangered native plants come back from the brink.

Helping Hands

A wide-ranging nonprofit in South Texas provides food, clothes and even medical services to folks in need.

MAY 2024

'Yellowstone' in Texas

Many have known and relied on the massive Four Sixes Ranch—long before Hollywood put it on the small screen.

Highway Designer

Meet the man behind much of the locally inspired artwork decorating highway overpasses across the state.

JUNE 2024

Dale's Trails

The professor who was the first to visit all 95 state parks in a year has the inside scoop on the best hikes and natural sights in Texas.

Bloodlines

Three generations of West Texas lineworkers—a grandfather, father and son—answer the call when the lights go out.

Texas Coop Power

A MAGAZINE ABOUT TEXAS LIVING

ELAINE SPROULL (512) 486-6251 • ADVERTISING@TEXASCOOPPOWER.COM

REVISED 03.26.2024
ALL ARTICLES ARE SUBJECT TO CHANGE

Editorial Calendar

JULY 2024

House of History

Felton Cochran's Cactus Book Shop in San Angelo remains the go-to for treasured books about Texas' culture and past.

Morgan at the Mic

For three decades, Chuck Morgan has been the stadium voice of the Rangers—from last place to World Series champions.

AUGUST 2024

Capturing Texas

Photographer Wyatt McSpadden discovers some of his favorite memories off the beaten paths around the state.

When the Lights Came On

Her dad brought the first lightbulbs to Coleman County, and today Katie Phillips, 96, uses that co-op electricity to charge her smartphone.

SEPTEMBER 2024

The Pads Keep Popping

At the Texas School for the Deaf, football comes without a soundtrack.

Building Bridges

The volunteers of the Texas Ramp Project have supplied more than 26,000 wooden passages for folks with mobility issues.

Texas Co-op Power

A MAGAZINE ABOUT TEXAS LIVING

ELAINE SPROULL (512) 486-6251 • ADVERTISING@TEXASCOOPPOWER.COM

REVISED 03.26.2024
ALL ARTICLES ARE SUBJECT TO CHANGE

Editorial Calendar

OCTOBER 2024

From the Top

University programs are sending students and professors on mountaintop adventures in the name of journalism.

Llama Lessons

A North Texas farm with a life-size replica Irish castle offers hands-on experiences with a cast of goofy camelids.

NOVEMBER 2024

Saving Snakes

When wily reptiles find their way into living spaces, he dutifully answers the call as a specialist in humanely removing rattlers.

Honor Bound

After a nationwide search and years of planning and construction, Arlington's National Medal of Honor Museum takes shape.

DECEMBER 2024

Bright Christmas

A 150-year-old North Texas pecan tree undergoes an annual magical metamorphosis: It's wrapped in tens of thousands of lights.

Mower Mayhem

These weekend warriors have no use for spinning blades—they're cutting corners, not lawns.

Texas Co-op Power

A MAGAZINE ABOUT TEXAS LIVING

ELAINE SPROULL (512) 486-6251 • ADVERTISING@TEXASCOOPPOWER.COM

REVISED 03.26.2024

ALL ARTICLES ARE SUBJECT TO CHANGE